

Archives Internship – Spring 2017

The Stephen B. Luce Library at SUNY Maritime College seeks a student intern for the spring 2017 semester to assist with processing archival collections. Duties include processing and re-housing archival materials; bringing legacy finding aids in line with DACS standards; creating finding aids in ArchivesSpace; assisting with reference requests; and writing a blog post. The archives intern will be trained and supervised by an experienced archivist, and will emerge with a well-rounded understanding of how an archives operates in a small academic library.

Appropriate candidates will be currently enrolled in a Master's program in Information and Library Studies, with at least some coursework in archival studies. The intern should be familiar with basic archival principles and standards. The intern is expected to commit to two days a week (12-15 hours total), and must work Monday – Friday during day time hours. Internships are unpaid but may be completed for course credit.

To apply

Send a resume and cover letter to Annie Tummino, Archivist and Scholarly Communications Librarian, at atummino@sunymaritime.edu.

About SUNY Maritime College and the Stephen B. Luce Library

SUNY Maritime College is located on a 55-acre scenic waterfront property on the outskirts of New York City on the Throggs Neck peninsula. The college prepares students for jobs in the maritime industry through a unique combination of academics and applied learning, including summer sea terms and internships.

The Stephen B. Luce Library has a longstanding commitment to storing and preserving America's maritime heritage. As the first maritime school in the country, founded in 1874, the college's institutional records document the development of nautical education in the United States. Additionally, the library is home to the records and papers of over fifty maritime organizations, professionals, and college alumni.