CONCENTRATION IN RARE BOOKS AND SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

The Palmer School offers a specialization in Rare Books and Special Collections as part of the American Library Association-accredited MSLIS in Library and Information Science program. The program is designed for students intending to pursue careers in research institutions and the book trade. Students develop proficiency in rare book curatorship, archival techniques, book history, rare book cataloging, preservation, and exhibition planning. They become acquainted with major rare book collections through field trips and internships, and they will have opportunities to meet experts in this area. Specialized courses in book history are offered, and courses relevant to this specialization may also be selected from the Palmer School's Certificate in Archives and Records Management program.

A total of four courses are required (12 credits) but students must take:

- LIS 713 Rare Books and Special Collections Librarianship
- LIS 658 History of the Book (or one of several other historically oriented courses that meet the history of the book requirement. Those are noted below.)

Plus any two electives from the list of recommended classes below:

- LIS 519 Great Collections of New York City
- LIS 616 Contemporary Artists' Books (counts as history of the book)
- LIS 652 Exhibitions and Catalogs: Library Meets Museum
- LIS 657 Introduction to Preservation
- LIS 714 Archives and Manuscripts
- LIS 763 Metadata for Digital Libraries
- LIS 901 Collecting and Managing Ephemera
- LIS 901 Rare Book Cataloging and Descriptive Bibliography (counts as history of the book)
- LIS 901 Institute on Map Collections (counts as history of the book)

These courses meet requirements for both the Certificate in Archives and Records Management and the Special Collections Concentration
