RARE BOOKS AND SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

The Palmer School offers Rare Books and Special Collections as an area of studies within the American Library Association-accredited MSLIS in Library and Information Science program. The program is designed for students intending to pursue careers in research institutions and the book trade. Students develop proficiency in rare book curatorship, archival techniques, book history, rare book cataloging, preservation, and exhibition planning. They become acquainted with major rare book collections through field trips and internships, and they will have opportunities to meet experts in this area. Specialized courses in book history are offered, and courses relevant to this area of studies may also be selected from the Palmer School’s Certificate in Archives and Records Management program.

Completion of at least four courses is suggested (12 credits)

HIGHLY RECOMMENDED:
- 658  – History of the Book (or one of several other historically oriented classes that meets the history of the book requirement)
- 713  – Rare Book and Special Collections Librarianship

RECOMMENDED: (select any two electives from the list below)
- 519  – Great Collections of New York City (counts as history of the book)
- 529  – Map Collections (counts as history of the book)
- 652  – Exhibitions and Catalogs: Library Meets Museum (counts as history of the book)
- 657  – Introduction to Preservation
- 709  – Rare Book Cataloguing and Descriptive Bibliography (counts as history of the book)
- 714  – Archives & Manuscripts
- 901  – Collecting and Managing Ephemera (counts as history of the book)

These courses meet requirements for both the Certificate in Archives and Records Management and the Special Collections Concentration
