

Adelphi University

Swirbul Library

The Cataloging Department at the Swirbul Library, Adelphi University is currently recruiting interns for the Fall 2017 term. The Cataloging intern will perform both copy cataloging and original cataloging duties. The intern will gain hands on experience with MARC records, OCLC Connexion, Sierra (our local ILS), Library of Congress Subject Headings, Library of Congress Classification System, RDA, and FRBR.

The student must be available to work weekdays between 9:00am to 5:00pm; must be currently enrolled in a graduate-level program in library and information science; and must have completed a course in cataloging, metadata or the organization of information. The internship will be unpaid and the internship will take place at the Adelphi University campus in Garden City, Long Island, New York.

Contact Information:

James H. Cho

Assistant Professor

Catalog and Metadata Strategies Librarian

jcho@adelphi.edu

516-877-3526