

The Center for Fiction

The Center for Fiction is looking for fall interns (beginning September). This is an unpaid position but can be taken for school credit.

Interns will help maintain the Center's 85,000-volume library and independent bookstore, gain experience in original and copy cataloging of materials, circulation, weeding, readers advisory, and work with our nineteenth-century collection. Interns will also help with our roster of readings and events. This internship requires a minimum commitment of two five-hour shifts per week. All interns will receive a free year's membership to the Center for Fiction (a value of $120), which includes borrowing privileges and discounts on classes and book purchases. Applicant must be matriculating students enrolled at a degree-granting institution.

Interested candidates should email the head librarian Jon Michaud at jon@centerforfiction.org with a copy of their resume and cover letter. Please put "internship" in the subject line of the e-mail.
