American Museum of Natural History

The Darwin Manuscripts Project (DMP) at the American Museum of Natural History in New York is offering a number of internships in the Spring, Summer, & Fall terms of 2015. DMP (darwin.amnh.org) is a leading digital humanities project that is editing the entire corpus of Charles Darwin’s scientific manuscripts. Interested students are invited to explore the website and submit a CV with cover letter to Prof. David Kohn (dkohn@amnh.org).
